

Alex Wilson

B.COM (ECON, BA; ONGOING)

Research Assistant

Alex is a Research Assistant with Essential Economics. He is completing studies in Economics and Business Analytics and recently joined the firm.

Alex brings to Essential Economics an enthusiastic and professional attitude with a drive to learn and develop his skills.

The role that Alex holds at Essential Economics involves research, analysis and mapping. He also assists with preparation of reports and presentations.

BACKGROUND

Alex is in the process of studying a Bachelor of Commerce degree from Deakin University, where he is majoring in Economics and Business Analytics.

His time at Deakin has seen him travel to China to take part in a study tour in the centre of China, Chengdu; Where the collaboration of students from around the globe resulted in discussions of economic views of all kinds which ultimately broadened his prospective on his studies and the world.

Alex's interest in economics resonates from his drive to gain a greater insight into the growth of the world around us; whilst learning and understanding the data and information behind where growth originates.

With Alex growing up and living in Geelong, he brings local knowledge of Victoria's second largest city.

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS

Bachelor of Commerce (Economics & Business Analytics), Deakin University, Expected Completion 2018

PRESENT POSITION

Research Assistant, Essential Economics Pty Ltd, July 2018 –

PAST POSITIONS

Manager, La Campa, 2011 – 2018